EXPERIENCED VETERINARY SURGEON WITH A SMALL ANIMAL BIAS REQUIRED FOR MIXED PRACTICE

- We are an eighteen vet practice looking for a veterinary surgeon with enthusiasm for small animal work to join our independently owned, R.C.V.S. accredited practice in rural North Yorkshire (75% farm, 5% horse work, 20% pets). There are 12 vets on the duty rota which is evenly shared.
- High calibre support staff including qualified RVNs
- Excellent, friendly and experienced veterinary team - regular in-house clinical meetings and discussions
- Large and expanding farm client base, with regular routine fertility visits & herd health planning for both cattle and sheep
- Total Vet, Vet Impress, bull/ram fertility testing etc.
- New, spacious purpose-built premises, with large farm dispensary
- Favourable terms for a proactive and enthusiastic approach

This position offers a very varied mix of work, and to a degree the role can be tailored to accommodate an individual's areas of enthusiasm, but we are ideally looking for someone with a small animal bias. It is important that you are happy to deal with all species out of hours.

We have recently built a brand-new small animal surgery, with excellent small facilities (2 vet and one nurse consulting rooms, separate large operating theatre, large prep room, separate room for radiography and ultrasound scanning, isolation room, separate cat & dog kennels). Our equipment includes in-house biochemistry, critical care analyser, endoscopes, digital radiography, (both also used for horse work), ECG, dental radiography and ultrasonography.

The duty rota includes both first and second call and is shared evenly between 12 vets. There is also a nurse on duty out of hours, which allows for good support in an emergency situation.

Easingwold is a small market town close to York, and in the middle of beautiful countryside – the Yorkshire Moors and The Howardian Hills, but it is close to main road and rail networks.

If you are interested, please contact us by e-mail or telephone – we would be happy to discuss the position further. Please apply to Mrs V. Garbutt, Practice Manager, Howells Veterinary Services Ltd., York Road, Easingwold, York, YO61 3EB (e-mail: victoria.garbutt@howellsvets.co.uk), or telephone 01347 823678 for more details.
